Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer. COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 7.—Skopec was wild to-day, but effective at critical times and the local batters could not hit him, with men on bases, Streit lost his own game, as two successive bases on balls followed by a double and a sin gle gave Wheeling three runs in the sixth inning. Streit was given perfect support until the ninth inning, when a my was dropped in the outfield, but there was no runs scored after that, so strictly speaking, he was given perfect It was simply a cuse of timely hitting against an inability to do likewise. The game abounded in sensational plays. The score:

That Wheeling patrons of squaredup contest Thursday night at the Metand Gene Garcia are scheduled to mix it up for twenty rounds, is conceded by all who have seen the pair at work this week. Both are extremely anxious to work a win out of this fight, and will enter the ring trained to the pink of condition. Gardner's friends are especially pleased with his earnestness in preparing for this battle, and say he will be invincible. On the other hand the young New Yorker has made most excellent impression, and will have a host of admirers to urge him

Auber and Harris, of Steubenville, ought to furnish a crack-a-jack preliminary. The Ohio lad is tipped off as a comer, and if he can outpoint or knock out Buzz he will be fairly started on a career of success in the ring.

on to victory Thursday night.

The management of the "Mets" is putting in a number of electric fans, in order that the spectators of Thurs-day night's contests may witness the sport in comfort.

Sentiment among local followers of events in Fistiana is divided as to the winner of the Fitzsimmon-Ruhlin fight Friday night, but the majority seem to have picked Fitz to win. This has always been a Fitzsimmon town, and will doubtless continue so till the big blacksmith makes! his exit from Fis-

RUHLIN AND FITZSIMMONS. Bob's Arm is "Queer," But His Admirers Expect Him to Win. NEW YORK, Aug. 7.-Robert Fitzimmons and Gus Ruhlin are the most preoccupied men in or around Greater New York. Both are thinking of a certain punch to be delivered at an opportune time in the ring of the Madson Square Garden Priday night. Each thinks he will deliver the lucky punch, and these hot afternoors each is giving dress rehearsals of the knockout

The freckled, lank and auburnthatched antipodian is making horseshoes and hard blows at his Bergen Beach quarters. He is training hard. His arm is a little "queer," and he doesn't know just what to make it yet. He anticipates no trouble, however, and says he will be ready to care for the Akron mammoth a la Carson Ruhlin thinks differently. He dog trotting around Bath Beach, over the roads, sparring a little and taking things quite placidly for a big and nervous man. He says he will deliver a blow on Fitzsimmons for every freckle that the blacksmith owns, and that's saying a lot.

In commenting on the fight Ruhlin "I have been improving steadsays: lly, while Fitzsimmons has been going back. There is a good punch left in the Australian, but I feel confident that he will be unable to land squarely on me. Corbett has shown me all of Fitzsimmons' famous feints and leads, and his style is now well known to me. On the other hand, I have been learning new punches nearly every day, one of which will put Fitzsimmons out."

J. C. Kennedy, match maker at the Madison Square Garden, thus sizes up the fight: "As, a betting proposition the coming fight between Bob Fitzsimmons and Gus Ruhlin is causing New York sporting men a lot of hard thinking. Both men have a big following, and while only a few bets have been made, it is going to be one of the best betting events of the year. Fitssim-mons' admirers look for him to finish gine came in contact with a trolley wire Ruhlin in the first few rounds. They argue that the Akron gunt is bound to enter the ring very nervous, and that a cool man like Fitz will be able to sall right in and win the fight.

"Fitzsimmons is such an experienced fighter that if Ruhlin does enter the ring at all nervous Fitz will not be slow to take advantage of it and a short fight may result. As a puncher the Cornishman is able to outclass all the heavy weights, and much money is sure to be bet on him, because of his well-known ability to land a settling blow at the right moment. Ruhlin's admirers laugh at the idea of his becoming stage struck, and say they will risk their whole bank roll on the Ohio man's ability to defeat Fitzsimmons. Even if Ruhlin is unable to finish the Cornishman, within ten rounds, his friends say that Fitzsimmons is growing old and that his age will begin to count after that, and then Ruhlin will have him at his mercy. Whichever way the decision goes, a large pot of money is bound to exchange hands on on the result of the fight."

THE BUFFALO BACES

The Horse Review Stake Won Tuesday in Fast Time by Moebel. BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 7.-The Horse Review $5,000 purse for three-year-old trotters foals of 1897, was the feature of the grand circuit card at Fort Erle that the event would develop a livery contest and a larger crowd than usual saw the sport. The race, however, re sulted in a straight heat victory for Moebel, a big bay horse by Moke, sent out for the laurels by the Walnut Hall farm of Donarall, Ky. In the opening pools Moebel sold at $50 on even terms with Dirigo, Major Delmar and Iva D. but after the first heat Moebel was always a pronounced favorite. Moebel stepped out in gallant fashion all through. McHenry made a drive with Locha in the second heat, but sent his filly to a break. On the strength of Locha's showing while she held her feet, there was little selling on the field against Morbel for the final struggle. Many horsemen thought the heavy gaited Morbel would tire in the last brush, but he came away from Major Delmar again with ease, distancing all his field, but the Major and Locha, thus gathering in first and fourth monies Moebel improved his mark every heat, going the last mile very steadily in 2:16%.

BELLAIRE HAPPENINGS.

Matters of Interest in the Metropolis of Belmont County. A. W. Beatty, of the auditor's office, was down yesterday starting the city decennial board in business. It had met at the auditor's office In St. Clairsville Monday and organized by electing John Steger president, and will hold daily sessions for a while now. Most of the members of the board seem disor the members of the board seem dis-posed to do all in their power to put this city right, but they are powerless. They can neither increase nor decrease the aggregate. They can take some-thing off what was put on Paul and place it on Peter, but this sort of shifting is all they can do. They are una-ble to get at the real thing, which would be a reduction all over the city, in view of what other places have re-ported. But for this remedy the coun-ty, and state beards must be looked to, and all they can do is to make horizontal reductions. This is the fault of the law, which would be good if all the appraisers followed it to the letter. As it is a better one could be framed.

Thomas Tracy suffered an uglgy accident at the mill furnace yesterday. One of the large swinging cranes struck him in the face, crushing his right check bone and disfiguring him badly. A deep gash was also cut in the side of his face. He received medical attention at once and is getting along as nicely as a man can with such injuries.

gine came in contact with a trolley wire yesterday while running to the brick works, and tore it loose for a consid-erable distance. It made a danger-ous trailing wire for a short time, when it was all fixed up again.

It seems to be a fact that J. W. Gar-ber has resigned as agent of the Balti-more & Ohlo at this place, but the date when it takes effect is not yet made public.
